I feel your sorrow, friend. Older than yo, but I also fail to find real motivation to live further. It seems, that life is an eternal struggle, struggle for each day which takes a lot but doesn't give anything back.

However, did you ever have soem hobbies, passions? Maybe in the past?

I wanna die so badly but I can't kill myself I think part of it is because it's a selfish act but then again nobody cares about my life

Well, it might sound like a cliché, but I do care. We don't know each other much, but having similar problems and feeling as low makes me care what will happen to you.
Can you share what are your hobbies, passions?
